What are We Going to Do?

By Barry A. Wilson

I am trying to live one day at a time and not look at what is going on in our nation. As I have written before, I live in a small southern town. In my town we are going on with living. Our high school football team is about to win our third state championship. We are having beauty pageants at our community center. We are working to get more business in our town. In the city council meeting tonight, we recognized our youth football and how they won their region. Yes, COVID-19 has affected us, we have had some cases in our town, but not serious. We try to be responsible in our gatherings, but we are going to continue living. We going to visit with our friends and neighbors. I feel that our small town is doing well. Then I watch the news and it looks like our nation, not just our nation, but the entire world is falling apart. I don't know about you, but I feel like I just don't want to know what is going on in the world. What are we going to do? This is a question that I ask often. I am going to continue living. I am going to continue to trust in my Lord and Savior to protect me and lead me in the way that I should go. I read this on Facebook this morning, with so much going on, we must guard our mind and our heart. Whatever you FEED will grow! Fear, depression, joy, hope! So, encourage yourself in the Lord!! Our news media is feeding us fear and I refuse to accept this. I will feed my mind with the things of God and continue to love and care about our small town; living the abundant life that God gave me.

This is the scripture that I live by. "Even though the fig trees have no blossoms, and there are no grapes on the vines; even though the olive crop fails, and the fields lie empty and barren; even though the flocks die in the fields, and the cattle barns are empty, yet I will rejoice in the Lord! I will be joyful in the God of my salvation! The Sovereign Lord is my strength! He makes me as surefooted as a deer, able to tread upon the heights." Habakkuk 3:17-19

"Don't be afraid, for I am with you. Don't be discouraged, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you. I will hold you up with my victorious right hand." Isaiah 41:10
